

DEFENDER PROTEST
IS ARGUED TODAY

NEW YORK YACHT CLUB CONSIDERS THE CASE.

American Boat, Although Partly Disabled, Was Beaten by a Very Narrow Margin—Weather Was in Favor of the English Yacht—Dunraven's Generous Offer.

New York, Sept. 11.—A committee of the New York Yacht Club is considering Defender's protest and may order another race. As the boats finished yesterday less than half a mile separated the two and anxious eyes kept pace, second by second, with the time indicators as they moved around, and when it was seen that the American Defender had not only lost nothing in the last twenty miles of the course, but had actually gained, a great shout went up for the gallant struggle the vessel had made.

There were cheers for the victor, too, but although the Valkyrie III. was the first challenger since 1871 to lead over the home line, the honor of her performance was lost sight of for the moment in the grand effort of the American.

THE AMERICA'S CUP

It was a grievous accident that ruined the Yankee boat's chances, an accident which under the hair-splitting circumstances of jockeying at the starting line looked to be unavoidable.

The Valkyrie won the second of the series by one minute sixteen seconds elapsed time, and forty-seven seconds corrected time.

The racers maneuvered swiftly after the preparatory gun had been fired and with the Valkyrie to the windward Captain Haff made every effort to gain that position. Just before reaching the line, when Valkyrie was still to windward and Defender to leeward, a length astern, but still overhauling her, the American boat was blanketed so much that her baby jib topsail and jib shook. Captain Haff seeing this luffed up a little, evidently intending to let the other boat go ahead for the purpose of enabling him to pass under her stern and to windward. Captain Sycamore, at the Valkyrie's tiller, noted this move and luffed up also. It was then that the thousands of watchers on the surrounding boats noticed how dangerously close to each other the racers were. And just at that moment, too, a snap and a rending sound was heard, and it was seen that the Defender's jib topsail was flying loose in the wind. The Valkyrie's main boom had swung around and fouled the Defender's rigging.

Lightning action was necessary to save the topmast from breaking away completely, for it was already sprung from its fastenings, and Captain Haff, with a master stroke, taking his boat down to leeward, soon maneuvered her into a safe position and gave chase.

The Valkyrie, which had crossed the line first, had gained a good lead by the Defender's disaster, and had probably a little more than half a mile advantage at the end of the first leg in the triangular course over which they sailed. Her gain was something less than four minutes in the beat to windward. From that on, however, the Defender, while not perceptibly closing the gap between them, lessened the time, and they crossed not more than two minutes apart.

There was no kind of a sea on, nor swell. The surface of the ocean was most favorable to the Valkyrie.

The Defender had in good seamanship style held up the red protest flag when the Valkyrie's boom interfered so much with her progress. Still, she went on her journey, much worsted by the collision, but still gaining.

The Defender was out to race, even though the Valkyrie did better in both points of sailing. They only stood away on this tack for about five minutes, then they came around together. All the time the Valkyrie was doing the better work in both pointing and footing. At 12:54 the Defender was the first to come about, and she did it in a slow, slovenly, careless manner, occupying no less than twenty-seven seconds. The Valkyrie followed her opponent's example quickly and continued to race as a boat out for a cup should race. During the latter part of the beat out to the first mark, the Defender did better pointing, and her jib was shaking a good deal of the time. At 12:10 the yachts came around to port and at 12:24 back again to starboard, on which tack they were both able to make the first mark, where their time was taken as follows: Valkyrie, 12:57:43; Defender, 1:01:35.

So it will be seen that the Valkyrie led out to the first mark by three minutes and fifty-two seconds. On the second leg the crippled Defender overhauled the Briton by no less than seventeen seconds. At the end of this broad reach the yachts rounded the second mark as follows: Valkyrie, 1:58:10; Defender, 2:01:45.

Now the wind had shifted to southwest by south, and slowed down to eight miles an hour. As soon as the boats had both laid their course for home, the Defender, with her sound rigging to windward, began to rapidly overhauled the Valkyrie. The Valkyrie took in her balloon jib topsail and replaced it with a baby. She also set a balloon staysail, but, do what she would, the cripple overhauled her in a ridiculous manner and gained on the English boat so fast that, when the finish was reached, the Valkyrie was only two minutes and ten seconds ahead, after having gone over the starting line one minute and two seconds ahead, a cripple, and she went on racing as a cripple, so that the wind-up of the day's business showed that the fastest yacht in Europe could only beat the crippled American over a thirty-mile triangular course by forty-seven seconds.

After the yachts came about to the port tack soon after crossing the line, the Valkyrie was a good eighth of a mile to windward and several lengths ahead. As they stood away on the port tack the wind increased to eight or nine miles an hour. During that tack the Valkyrie plainly outfooted and outpointed the Defender, who did not dare to run up any sail on the jib topsail.

At 11:24 o'clock the Defender came about to starboard. The Valkyrie followed as promptly as though she had been racing with a fellow well met. On this tack the Defender pointed up well and went fast, but she could not catch the Valkyrie.

More than one competent witness of the day's sport said that, considering everything, the Valkyrie was beaten worse yesterday than Saturday. The Defender gained on her on the second and third leg. As a matter of fact, the only time at which both vessels had the same sails set was on the third leg, and during that run the Defender gained one minute and seventeen seconds. The few champions of the English boat who are left cannot find any consolation in the achievement of their ship.

The Defender protests the Valkyrie on the ground that she bore down upon her just before reaching the starting line, causing a foul, which resulted in the carrying away of her spreader and the springing of her topmast.

Lord Dunraven has offered a pension for life of thirty shillings weekly to every member of the crew of the Valkyrie should they succeed in winning the America's cup. The men held an informal meeting and discussed the offer.

Lord Dunraven's action is without precedent, either considered by itself or from the standpoint of generosity. It is the ambition of his life to place within the hands of his queen the trophy that passed out of the possession of England nearly half a century ago. The ages of the twenty-six men will average thirty years. They are all strong and healthy, and their expectation for life may be set at seventy years. In that time, if the expectation be realized, they will have received £3,120 sterling, or $15,600, and in the aggregate £82,160, or $400,800.

HAS DONE NOTHING.

Syndicate Does Not Make Good the Gold Deficiency.

Washington, Sept. 11.—As yet nothing has been heard of further deposits to put the gold reserve back to the $100,000,000 limit. To-day's steamer will take out about $1,500,000 in gold, according to last accounts, but heavy withdrawals for Saturday's liners are expected. The Campana, which is the prime favorite for the transportation of gold, sails Saturday and it is believed her load this trip will approximate $3,000,000. Treasury officials are bracing themselves for a big drag on the reserve on Friday next.

Good Templars Lose Members

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 11.—The Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. convened yesterday in Odd Fellows' hall in its forty-second annual session. There are 175 delegates present, and a large attendance of visitors. A special committee was appointed to consider the matter of consent to the petition of the Scandinavian lodges for a Junior Grand lodge within this territorial jurisdiction. The report will probably be adverse. Reports of officers show a loss of 1,247 members, with a present standing of 9,554, and a loss in lodges of forty-four, with a present number of 232. In juvenile templary there has been a gain of nearly 400 members, with a net loss of two lodges. The condition of the order is considered good.

Window Glass Men Quarrel

Chicago, Sept. 11.—As a result of the window glass manufacturers' meeting at the Auditorium Monday night, the proposed trust or selling agency under process of formation may go to pieces. At the meeting a split occurred between the Pittsburg manufacturers on one side and those of Indiana on the other. The trouble is over a division of the territory. It is thought the Pittsburg manufacturers will try to continue their combine independent of the west. In this event there will be two agencies.

FOUR MEN BLOWN UP
IN G. A. R. PARADE

LOUISVILLE HORRIFIED BY A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

One of the Caissons of Battery A, Louisville Legion Explodes While on the Way to Phoenix Hill, and Four Deaths Result—The Streets Crowded.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11.—Four members of Louisville Legion were killed this morning, by the explosion of a caisson which was being escorted to Phoenix hill, for use in the G. A. R. parade.

Many spectators were severely injured.

The killed were: CORPORAL ROBINSON, PRIVATE WOODS, PRIVATE M'KIDE, DRIVER WILLIAMS ADAMS, colored.

The caisson contained sixty pounds of powder. Why it exploded is unknown. Sergeant Conn and Private Hobbs were severely injured, but Captain Castleman escaped. The men killed were all members of Battery A Louisville Legion. The streets at the time of the accident were crowded. It is doubtful if this city, famous for fair women and fast horses, ever before entertained as many guests as are here to-day. Certain it is the town never before had within its limits so many battle-scarred soldiers. It is conservatively estimated that nearly 200,000 strangers are here. The majority of them thirty years ago bore arms, either for the blue or for the gray, but the blue and gray are one to-day and men who were then at war walk arm in arm as brothers.

The event of yesterday was the grand parade of the Naval Veterans association. The hour set for the starting of the parade was 10:30 o'clock. When the order to "Forward, march" was given, the old-timers moved. There were fully 10,000 men in line. Of course they were not all veterans, and of United States navy. But these veterans of the navy were the center of attraction, and as these grizzled and gray old heroes passed through the streets, they were greeted by patriotic cheers from the throats of the tens of thousands of citizens on the sidewalks, from the windows and housetops.

A detail of police under command of J. W. Hammond led the way. The Michigan City military band came next and then the Louisville legion drum and bugle corps. A regiment of Indiana state militia followed the music and next to the Hoosier soldiers was the Louisville legion. Then in sequence came Kirkamp's cornet band, uniform divisions of Knights of Pythias, Alpha, N. A. Louisville and Jeffersonville, Schneider's military band, Juvenile drill corps, Uniform Rank Knights of Honor, ex-prisoners of war, Mississippi ram-fleet veterans, Elchorn's military band, Grand Army of the Republic juvenile drum corps and then the naval veterans. Last in the parade, riding in carriages, came a score or more veterans of the Mexican war. They were too feeble with the weight of years to walk and few of them expect to see another national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, and in a few years they will be of the past and the naval veterans will be few and, like the veterans of the Mexican war, too feeble to march in parade.

In the afternoon the delegates to the various women's organizations were entertained with a carriage drive by the women of Louisville, and at night the official members of the Grand Army encampment were tendered receptions by the Women's Relief Corps and the ladies of the Grand Army.

Just now there is a vast amount of talk in G. A. R. circles as to who will be next commander-in-chief. There are a number of aspirants to the honor, but as yet none of the candidates has developed sufficient strength to warrant a prediction as to who the fortunate man will be. There is a good deal of talk to the effect that Colonel Ivan N. Walker of Indianapolis, should be elected. Another prominent candidate for the leadership is Thaddeus A. Clarkson of Nebraska. General C. H. Schute of New Orleans has also been talked of.

The Wisconsin veterans have about 600 men in the parade to-day, and carry "Old Abe," their famous eagle, and a badger, as the emblem of their state. The main body of the Iowa veterans is also in the rear guard some place over in Indiana. There will be about 1,000 Iowa veterans here, and many other visitors. The Minnesota veterans are here in force, and have with them a committee from St. Paul, working for the next encampment. The Denver veterans also have a citizens' committee with them to urge the G. A. R. to pitch its camp in the Rocky mountains at Denver next year. They also believe that they are to win, and so does Buffalo. From Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Washington, Oregon and California, the veterans came, and Utah came in yesterday. The northwestern men are all with St. Paul in her fight for the next encampment.

Among the Illinois men who came in yesterday was Charles A. Stone of Chicago. He was elected president of the Ransau Brigade association, with headquarters in Chicago. This was one of the famous brigades of the war, and was made up of the Louisville Legion, the First Ohio, the Sixth Indiana, and other regiments organized in the states of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. There were about 100 survivors present.

FIVE MEN KILLED ON THE NORTHERN

HEAD END COLLISION NEAR MELBY, MINN.

Passenger Trains Crash Together This Morning—Both Engineers, One Fireman and Two Baggage Men Meeting Instant Death—Three Mail Clerks and a Baggage Man Injured

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 11.—Passenger trains Nos. 2 and 3 on the Great Northern, had a head end collision near Melby this morning, five men being killed. The dead are:

J. K. EMERSON, engineer of No. 2. JAMES THIBEDAU, fireman of No. 2. IRA HINES, engineer of No. 3. TWO BAGGAGEMEN, one of whom is thought to be John H. Hawkins.

Five men were injured, including three mail clerks, one brakeman, and one passenger on No. 3.

Michigan Train Robber Confesses

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 11.—After receiving a ten-years' sentence to the northern penitentiary for shooting Deputy Sheriff Harrod, John C. Stone astonished Judge O'Rourke, the jury and the audience by rising in the prisoner's box and confessing that he and Wallrath, his pal, who was killed in the battle with the police, were members of the gang of train robbers which a few months ago held up a Lake Shore train near Wasepi, Mich. He gave the sheriff two gold watches and three railroad switch keys that he took from the trainmen that night. The railroad people have been after the switch keys without success ever since the train was held up. Stone, it is supposed, belonged to a band of train robbers, as they fought like tigers when arrested here three months ago. They opened fire as soon as the officers approached them. Wallrath was shot dead in his tracks and Deputy Sheriff Harrod was wounded in three different places.

Indiana Train Robbers Sentenced

Laporte, Ind., Sept. 11.—In the Laporte Circuit court yesterday John Myers, Frank Wilson, William Thomas Frank Grinnell, members of the gang who attempted to hold up a Lake Shore train near this city by opening fire on the crew, were each sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the Michigan City penitentiary. Several other members of the gang are confined in jail awaiting trial.

BIG RECEIPTS OF WHEAT.

Largest in the History of the Northwest—Smoot Causes Alarm.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 11.—The tremendous receipts of wheat at this point from North Dakota and the northwestern part of Minnesota cause comment among the grain men, especially those who a short time ago were predicting a sudden increase in price. The receipts are the largest in the history of the northwest at this time of the year. Those reported yesterday were 1,431 cars, against 700 cars the same day in 1891, and over 70 per cent of the new grain is of contract grade. The grain which is below grade has been damaged by smut, which will, before the crop is all in, be found to have done considerable damage. Grain men predict that unless new seed is obtained at once the next crop will be almost entirely worthless, as the smut keeps increasing year by year. The only way to stamp out the trouble, which now threatens to do great damage next year, is to procure seed from fields which have not been contaminated in the slightest degree.

MRS. PITZEL TESTIFIES.

Identified the Coat Worn by Her Murdered Child.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Carrie A. Pitzel, the wife and mother of H. H. Holmes' alleged victims, was before Coroner Castor and the county grand jury yesterday with her daughter Bessie. She told the story of Holmes' movements, particularly in leading her over the country while he was making away with her children. She identified her son Howard's overcoat and was prostrated by grief. Mrs. Pitzel described the garment accurately. It was then shown to her. She burst into lamentation and said: "It is poor Howard's coat. Oh, I must see him!" Mrs. Pitzel was so distracted that the investigation was suspended. In an interview with her Mrs. Pitzel said that she would like to take Holmes by the throat, "not to kill him, for I could not commit murder, but I want to see him punished."

Illinois Methodist Conference

Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 11.—The advance guard of the Illinois Methodist conference arrived yesterday, headed by Bishop I. W. Joyce of Chattanooga. The conference already has arranged to print a daily paper with a special report of the doings of the body while here. Last evening was occupied with the exercises of the Epworth league, a flourishing body of young Christians who have done good service in church work.

Accidentally Shot by His Brother

Princeton, Ill., Sept. 11.—Herman Hassler, of Hollowayville, while adjusting a revolver, accidentally shot his brother Charles through the lungs, inflicting a fatal wound. The young men are the children of wealthy parents.

OHIO FIGHT BEGINS.

Republicans Formally Open the Campaign at Springfield.

Springfield, O., Sept. 11.—Never before has this city seen so many Republicans together at one time. It was estimated that 30,000 persons congregated at the fair grounds to hear the speeches yesterday. Many of the manufacturers did not open their doors, but allowed their employees to join the demonstration or take a holiday. As the procession reached the fair ground gates Senator Sherman, Gov. McKinley, ex-Gov. Foraker, Gen. Bushnell and Gen. A. W. Jones, as well as others who were seated with them, arose and saluted Grand Marshal Anthony as he passed. Arriving at the speakers' stand the vast assemblage was called to order by James P. Goodwin, chairman of the Clark County Central Committee, after which Dr. S. A. Orr of Wittenberg college offered prayer. John Sherman was then introduced as chairman of the day and made a long address. After Sherman Gen. Bushnell spoke, followed by Gov. McKinley, Foraker and Jones. James H. Hoyt of Cleveland and Auditor E. W. Poe of Columbus also made short addresses.

$40,000 Fire Loss at Princeton, Ind.

Piercetown, Ind., Sept. 11.—One half of the business portion of this village was destroyed by fire between 3 and 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The crude hand fire engine, manned by a volunteer company, could poorly battle with the flames. The fire spread rapidly and an entire block, consisting of fourteen two-story frame store buildings and two residences were soon enveloped in flames. A detachment of the Fort Wayne fire department was hurried to the scene and assisted materially in saving the residence portion of the town. The occupants of the burning buildings escaped, some of them with difficulty, however. They saved only their night robes. The loss is estimated at $40,000, with practically no insurance.

Rivers Still Rising in Kansas.

Independence, Kas., Sept. 11.—The rivers in this vicinity took another rise yesterday and are going up two or three inches an hour. The water has reached a considerable depth in the pump house of the water works, and if it rises much higher the works will have to shut down, leaving the city without fire protection. The situation is no better at Elk City, and the inhabitants are patiently waiting for the water to recede. Neodesha is surrounded by water on both sides, preventing trains from running on the Missouri Pacific. No trains have gone west on the Santa Fe since Sunday.

May Close Down the Mine.

Ishpeming, Mich., Sept. 11.—Agent Hall of the Lake Superior Iron Company informed the men formerly employed at the section 21 mine that if they did not report for work on before 5 o'clock this afternoon the mine would be closed down for an indefinite time. The union will consider the matter at its meeting to-day and in view of the fact that the company has not made any concessions in the wages there it is not likely they will allow the men to go back. Mr. Hall says if the men do not return to work the mine will likely be closed until spring.

Trial Begins Today.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 11.—Judge Banter in the United States court yesterday refused to continue the case of Francis and Percival Coffin, to be tried for the wrecking of the Indianapolis National bank. Delay was asked by the defense on account of the absence of two witnesses. The case will be called this morning.

SWAMP FIRE GAINS
AROUND APPLETON

FARMERS FOUGHT FLAMES ALL NIGHT.

They Fear It Will Spread to the Big Swamp Which Is Now a Bed of Dry Peat, Eight Miles Long and Three Miles Wide—A Fatal Runaway.

Appleton, September 11.—The swamp fire in the town of Center is spreading, and there is great fear of it getting into the big swamp which is eight miles long and three wide and covered with timber. Farmers worked all night throwing up trenches to bar the flames. The wind is now favorable, but should a northwest wind come nothing can stay the fire. Farm houses are in great danger.

Fatal Runaway at Boscobel.

Boscobel, Sept. 11.—Albert Wheeler wife and child were riding home last night when his team ran against some rocks. Wheeler was fatally injured and the others may die.

ALL AGAINST HINSHAW.

Many Witnesses Testify in the Famous Trial at Evansville.

Danville, Ind., Sept. 11.—In the trial of the Rev. Mr. Hinshaw it is generally conceded that the prosecution is surprising the defense by the strength of the testimony it is introducing. Dr. Frank A. Morrison, a professor and lecturer on anatomy in the Indiana Medical college, took the stand when court convened yesterday. When asked regarding the probability of the murdered woman being able to walk and talk intelligently he dealt the defense a telling blow by looking straight at Hinshaw and saying: "It was an utter anatomical impossibility; she would have lost all power of voluntary motion." Thomas White was the next witness. He was one of the first persons to find Hinshaw on the morning of the tragedy. The minister told him that two men had entered his house and killed his wife. That after being shot she said: "I am killed." Witness looked for tracks in the direction Hinshaw said the robbers had gone, but found none. Dr. Dryden, who was on the stand all day Saturday, was recalled. He said he thought the woman was murdered while lying on her face. Mrs. Mary East lived across the street from Hinshaw on the night of the killing. She heard two shots and went out on the porch. Then she heard Hinshaw cry: "Oh, oh," and saw him coming toward her. It was a light night and she had a plain view of the south, but saw no one running away. When Hinshaw fell she went to him. The accused said he was bleeding to death and asked for a doctor. He said: "Theresa was shot in bed, she said so." The witness heard defendant say that his wife jumped from bed and said: "Will, I'm shot. Did you do it?" Hinshaw came to her house during the grand jury investigation and told her not to get excited. Nettie Mays, who belongs to Hinshaw's church, was awakened by hearing the minister cry: "Why don't some one come, I'm murdered!" She hastened to him and he said: "Nettie, you have come too late, I'm cut and shot all to pieces. Theresa is shot." The witness helped carry Mr. Hinshaw in the house.

New York Schoolhouse Burns.

New York, Sept. 11.—Fire broke out in the parochial school at the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel at One Hundred and Fifteenth street yesterday morning. There were 400 children in the various classrooms, and the existence of the fire was not known in the building until a policeman notified the principal, Rev. A. Monsell, who at once took measures to dismiss the children. So well was this done that every child was taken out in safety, and there was no panic.

TWO MEN MET DEATH IN A FREIGHT WRECK

THEY JUMPED TO AVOID BE-ING CAUGHT.

Chicago & Northwestern Freight Breaks in Two and the Rear Section Crushes into the First—Frank Hollingshead and E. J. Stillman Fall Under the Wheels.

Two men were killed in the Evansville freight wreck. They were riding on an open coal car on Train No.
34 and were found among the broken pieces of six freight cars. The wreck occurred at the mill pond one mile north of the village and the dead men are:

FRANK HOLLINGSHEAD, unmarried, of New Lisbon.
E. J. STILLMAN, of New Lisbon or Kilbourne.

The wreck was caused by the train breaking in two and the rear section running into the forward section.
The two men killed, together with an unknown companion were riding on an open coal car. When they saw that a collision was inevitable, Hollingshead and Stillman jumped. They fell under the train and were crushed to death, their bodies being terribly mangled.

Tramp Thrown Into the Pond.

The tramp stuck to the car and was thrown about twenty feet, landing in the mill pond from which he was easily rescued.

The bodies of the men killed were brought to the village and taken to the city hall. They were evidently railroad men, both having switch keys, and one of them having a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad man's traveling card. Both wore tan shoes and were fairly well dressed.
Their identity was later established by letters and other papers found in the pockets of their clothes and Hollingshead had $10 in his pocket and Stillman $22.
Hollingshead's father is a St. Paul railway conductor.

Dr. J. F. Stillman of Kilburn, says he believes one of the men killed in the wreck at Evansville, is his son, who, together with two other railroad men, were enroute to Santa Fe, where they were expected to secure work.

WORK FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

William Reynolds Addresses a Union Meeting of Bower City Churches.

The organization of a state Sunday school association was discussed at the union meeting of Janesville Sunday school workers in the First M. E. church last evening. J. T. Wright presided, and Dr. M. G. Hodge made the opening prayer. William Reynolds of Peoria, was the principal speaker. He dwelt upon the fact that in 150,000 schools in this country 1,400,000 teachers were placing G. d.'s word before 12,000,000 children. In spite of all this, however, 14,000,000 children remained outside the pale of religious influence. Said Mr. Reynolds:

"It is an object of the association to reach these and the different churches should co-operate heartily. Denominations are not competitive, but are different branches of God's great army, fighting for one common cause with one banner and under one leader.
Don't tear down your denominational fences, but do get the barbed wire off the top. Illinois has one of the finest organizations and as a result has a school for every 540 of its inhabitants. No man on earth can tell how many schools scholars or teachers there are in Wisconsin because she has no association. The object of the association is to know just where there are schools and to point out where there should be others so that some church may organize one; to reach families that are not represented in the schools by calling on them once a year at least, and securing their attendance if possible and to hold conventions for the mutual help of all workers in the schools."

MUCH COAL BEING BOUGHT EARLY

Low Prices Tempt Consumers to Fill Their Cellars for Winter

As one of the results of the greatly reduced prices of coal and the uncertainty as to how long the low rates would continue, many thousands of tons have been stored away in cellars in Milwaukee, where, as a rule, the coal is not put until late in the fall in small quantities. Dealers say the low price of $4.75 per ton, delivered, has the effect of causing large numbers of small consumers to put in their season's supply.
With the large consumers it has made no difference because they stock up in midsummer any way, the prices cutting no figure. The indications are that the present price of $4.75 per ton will continue through the present month at least, and probably through October. At present there is no indication of an agreement among shippers in the coal fields by which the prices could be advanced and until they get together the public will continue to reap the benefits of the fight for business among roads and shippers.

was yesterday dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Hyzer retiring while Mr.
Winans will continue to occupy the office. The firm of Winans & Hyzer is one of the best known in southern Wisconsin, the two gentlemen having been in partnership for ten years.
While the dissolution of the firm may be a surprise to the general public, it has been contemplated for some time.
Mr. Hyzer is now extensively interested in the Janesville Water company and, for the present, at least, he will make his office with that corporation, devoting considerable time, as is necessary, to the suit begun against the company by the city. Messrs. Winans and Hyzer will act together, however, in matters where the firm has been actively retained.

PLAN FOR SCHOOL SIDEWALKS

Council Committee Examine the Ground
About the New Building.

The highway and bridge committee of the common council, composed of Aldermen Hemming, McLean, Burnham, Stearns and Inman, visited the new high school building today and looked over the ground with a view of laying sidewalks and enlarging the grounds thereby if possible. The matter was placed in the hands of this committee with power to act, at the last meeting of the council.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL.

WINSOME, jolly clever Charlie Gardner, known as "Karl, the sweet singer," will be seen here at the Myers Grand Thursday evening in "The Prize Winner." The play will be enacted by the most capable company with which Mr. Gardner has ever surrounded himself. It will be superbly mounted, and the picturesqueness of the scene will be accentuated by the fetching costumes of that country, which will be worn by the various members of the company.

ONLY four days more before school.
Have you looked the children's clothes over and fitted them out for the opening day? We are showing the finest line of boys' fall suits we ever have had. The selections this year are very pretty. This week we make a specialty of children's clothing. Frank H. Baack.

Our display at the Fair this week is the best that the state has ever seen. We have spent much time and money in getting the exhibit of buggies and fine vehicles together generally and know that it will be well worth your time to look them over. F. A. Taylor.

Don't fail to see Rosenfeld's large local on page five, in this issue, where he tells you a thing or two. Suits for children 75 cents. Boys' and men's suits $2.50 and $3.50 at the popular clothing house, Rosenfeld, on the bridge. Sign on the window.

THE prettiest time of the year always to ride, is in the autumn. Have you thought of your buggy? Is it fit to ride in? Will it stand the racket this fall? Our repository is full of bargains in buggies. We can make a deal with you if you are at all inclined to buy. F. A. Taylor.

Don't fail to see Rosenfeld's large local, page 5, in this issue, where he tells you a thing or two. Suits for children 75 cents. Boys' and men's suits $2.50 and $3.50, at the popular clothing house, Rosenfeld, on the bridge. Sign on the window.

PEOPLE should be particular as to the appearance of their children at school. This can be done for very little money. A fall suit that will look and wear well the whole winter can be bought cheap at our children's special this week. Frank H. Baack.

local on page 5, in this issue, where he
suits $2.50 and $3.50, at the popular
clothing house, Rosenfeld, on the bridge. Sign on the window.

WE are receiving fall goods in large quantities every day; bought last March, before the rise in stock! You can have them at less price than other dealers have to pay for them. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

WE have more than fifty different styles of handkerchiefs, that we sell at 5 cents and every one guaranteed as good as you ever bought at ten cents. Bort, Bailey & Co.

WE do not advertise to sell out regardless of cost and then in a short time come out with another ad saying we have all the new styles when we never moved a single case of goods. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

WE always have what we advertise and at the prices we advertise. We do not advertise to sell at 50 cents or factory price. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

WE have some great values in table linens at 25, 30, 35, 40, 50 and 65 cents. You will be surprised to see what these prices will buy. Bort, Balley & Co.

JUST received fifty pieces of those yard wide cambrics the kind that we have sold so largely this season. The whole line are navy blue and black grounds all patterns. Bort, Bailey & Co.

HAVE you used any of our ladies seamless tan and black hose that we sell at 10 cents? Other stores sell the same at 15 cents. Bort, Bailey & Co.

WE are saving wood right along while some others are blowing wind.
Brown, Bros. & Lincoln.

EVERY one goes to the fair and almost every one buys their shoes of Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

REMEMBER we give a buckboard free with every boy's suit, no matter what the price may be. Its a very nice toy for the children. Frank H. Baack.

FOUND IN HER BED COLD AND LIFELESS

SUDDEN DEATH OF AN EVANS-VILLE RESIDENT.

Mrs. Ellen Boswell Biglow Passes Away in the Night at the Age of Sixty-Eight—Dibble Wadsworth Wedding—Brief Bits of Rock County News.

Evansville, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Ellen Boswell Biglow, a wealthy and highly esteemed lady, was found dead in her bed yesterday. Her death was unexpected, she apparently being in perfect health the night before. Deceased was born in London, England, about sixty-eight years ago. Her parents removed to St. Louis in 1829. She was married to Hamilton Biglow of Dane county, Wis., about thirty-five years ago. Mr. Biglow died in 1880, and in 1885 Mrs. Biglow removed to this village. Four children—Harry B., Walter F., B. H. and Emma are left to mourn the loss of a true Christian mother.

George W. Dibble, a merchant and prominent G. A. R. man of this city was married yesterday to Mary A.
Wadsworth. They will visit Louisville, Savannah and other southern cities on their wedding trip.

VERY FEW DIE AT THE JUNCTION

There Has Not Been a Death There Since May—Many Have Dysentery.

Milton Junction, Sept. 10.—There is considerable sickness about here, mostly dysentery; but there have been no fatal cases. There has not been a death in Milton or Milton Junction since last May. This is the first time in four years that there have not been several deaths each month in the year.
We are either growing healthier or have better physicians. A new store in the Odd Fellows' block will dispense groceries and tinware. We now have about five other groceries in this town.

Mr. Sundry, of Milton, was looking for a location for a shoe shop here this week, but there is no empty store building in town at present. Milton Junction must have a good reputation for a business place. John Maxson, of the bakery, has sold his business to a couple of young men from Fort Atkinson. Mr. Blacklaw, the baker, has returned to Chicago. Mr. Vankleek will continue to work for the new firm. Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan returned from their eastern trip last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Button will return next week. Rev. Hills did not arrive as expected this week. Rev.
Stephen preached a very fine sermon at the S. D. B. church Saturday.

Mr. Greenman will move the postoffice into the buildings on Merchants' Row occupied by Martin Baukin. Mrs. H.
Hills of Albion and Mrs. Charles Reverskild of Cambridge visited friends here the past week. Little Clifford Giesler has been very sick the past week but is a little better at the present writing. Emogere Miner who has been quite sick a week or more, is not yet able to sit up. Miss Ida Ellsworth is teaching at Newville this fall. Rev. Burdick is expected home on Wednesday of the present week.

Sam Partridge has sold his house and lot to Mr. Brown of Johnston. David Kelly is hauling stone to his lot on the corner of Merchants' Row and Vernal avenue. He contemplates making some improvements on his property there. Mr. and Mrs. Holstein of Walworth are now residents of this village. We welcome them.
Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Parker from Chicago came up to attend the annual dinner at the Seven Day Baptist church last Friday. It was a very pleasant occasion and enjoyed by all.

The Patriotic picnic at Clear Lake Thursday while not as fully attended as expected was a very enjoyable occasion. Speeches were made by several ministers, the principal one by Rev. Chambers of Milton. A picnic association was formed to meet every year.

Low Prices Have an Effect on the Volume of Business

Milton, Sept. 10.—The grain trade is dull owing to the low prices that prevail. The carload shipments last week were two car loads of oats and one of tobacco, three cars of coal and two of lumber were just received.
Prof. Edwin Shaw occupied the pulpit at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning. D. Y. Berkalew and wife returned from their eastern visit Saturday morning. Postmaster Morris and wife drove over to Delavan Sunday. Mrs. Robert Skinner, of Madison, arrived in the village Monday. The drouth, light crops and low prices for grain are not calculated to improve business. Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Colorado, Minnesota, South Dakota, Illinois, Louisiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Wisconsin have representatives in the college classes this term. Frank A. Root spent Sunday here. He started out Monday on his initial trip for the F. Donahue Co., of Milwaukee, his first stop being Juneau. Mrs. S. B.
Davis is on the sick list but is getting better. Dr. Stillman organized his class in vocal music Monday evening.
Mrs. Blount of the Telephone is in Louisville today.

MAY SELL CLEAR LAKE HOTEL

Rumor Has It That A. L. Rose May Go Out of Business.

Clear Lake, Sept. 10.—There is some talk to the effect that A. L. Rose will sell the Clear Lake summer resort to Junction parties. Mr. and Mrs.
Robert Carr of Edgerton visited at Will Stockman's Sunday. Mrs. L.

Gilbertson of Janesville visited her daughter, Mrs. C. Stockman Friday.
The Carl farm changed hands so Mr.
Hackborth will have to move. We are sorry to lose them for neighbors but wish them success in their new home. Miss Brightman is at Mrs.
Buten's attending the Junction school.
A good rain is needed. Summer Gilbert goes around every Monday with his oil wagon. Farmers can soon get anything they wish without going to town. If we only had a mail carrier; that is what we need. Some of the farmers would be scared if they should see a man that wanted to buy a weed called tobacco, in ye olden times.
Quite a number from here expect to attend the county fair this week.
Clem Tillman is here visiting his brothers Jacob and Frep. Mrs. Tillman has also been up from Chicago.

THE NEWS OF BARKER CORNERS.

Sundry School Convention Was Largely Attended—Other Breezy Notes.

Barker's Corners, Sept. 10.—A very interesting Sunday school convention was held at the hall Sunday afternoon, conducted by J. T. Wright, President of the Rock County Sunday School Association, and Mr. Henry, the Sunday school missionary. Four schools were represented and all seemed to be in a flourishing condition. Miss Mary Barker will return to Madison this week to resume her school work at the university. George and Guy Griffey spent Sunday at Be-loft, with their brother, H. A. Griffey.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilder, of Kosh-konong, were guests of D. Cross, last week. Miss Ella Pratt, of Janesville, spent Sunday with Mrs. G. R. Barker.
Quite a delegation of Lima people drove over last Thursday and took dinner with their pastor, Elder Thayer, and attended the Ladies' Aid society in the afternoon at Mrs. William Cox' and then drove home by "the sweet silver light of the moon."

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Glenn and Rev.
Depew were guests at D. Cross' Sunday and attended church here. Elder Depew supplied the pulpit for Elder Thayer and presented a very able and eloquent discourse, which was highly appreciated by his many friends in this vicinity. Miss Lo Wilder, of Koshkonong, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Gossip From Cooksville.

Cooksville, Sept. 10.—Mr. Rice is very sick. Mrs. Carlson is better.
Mr. Jenkins of Milwaukee, visited at Mr. Speers last week. Albert Julsetts had the misfortune to fall on the corned so as to cut his heel severely.
He was taken to Dr. Smith's, where it was dressed, but he will suffer all fall. Seven delegates are chosen to attend the District convention at Whitewater, September 17 and 18.

Mrs. Margaret Flint was buried here Sunday. Her home was in Janesville but she formerly resided in this place.
A recent article in The Gazette stated that only three young men in thirty had good eyesight. We should like to know if that is the reason there are so many "blind pigs." Corn is nearly all good in this section and most of it will be cut the coming week. James Colter and wife of Janesville, were callers on friends here last Sunday.
Mrs. Colton of Albany is a guest of Mrs. C. J. Miller. Mrs. William Leadle is home from Madison, where she has been for the last three weeks. Mrs.
David Johnson is visiting at Janesville, with her sister, Mrs. Woodbury.

The News of Emerald Grove.

Emerald Grove, Sept. 10.—Considerable corn is being cut up with corn binders this week. They seem to work all right unless the corn is badly down. A lady's watch charm was picked up in front of the store Sunday morning. Loser, please call.
Mrs. Lorany Spear and daughter Cora visited here last week. Several light rains last week managed to keep the dust down and keep fall feed growing.
Charles D. Fitch has set up a feed grinder in his factory and is doing gristing for his patrons. All work is done promptly and satisfactorily. E.
N. Ransom shipped a car of choice 1,600 pound steers to Chicago Monday night. Will A. Dean visited the Garden City on business Monday, returning on Wednesday. E. H. Ransom has on exhibition at the county fair a section of Keystone Woven wire fence, of which he has sold and put up over twenty miles since spring.
Charles Kemp shipped a car of hogs to Chicago Monday night.

THE SUMMER SEASON IS CLOSED

Captain Buchholz Finishes The Regular Term With a Chowder Party.

Captain Alex. Buchholz, the accommodating proprietor of Crystal Springs park, closed the regular season at that popular resort yesterday, with a clam chowder party to which he invited the public and served refreshments free of cost. Hereafter, the steamer Columbia will not make regular trips, but those desiring to charter the boat can notify Captain Buch-holz by mail, which he receives daily.

Twenty Five Cent Underwear.

Just outside our door you will see a sample of the best underwear ever sold in this city for the money, 25 cents. It is heavy jersey ribbed fleece lined, full sizes as good as sold last season at 50 cents. Take a look at it as you pass by. Bort, Bailey & Co.

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID FOR HIS STOMACH

NARROW ESCAPE OF W. W.
PATCHEN, OF EVANSVILLE.

Went to the Shelf at Night for a Dyspepsia Remedy, But Got the Wrong Bottle and Swallowed Some Deadly Poison—Antidotes Barely Saved His Life.

W. W. Patchen of Evansville, is thankful to be in the land of the living. Just before retiring, as was his custom, he took a mouthful of what he supposed was a remedy for indigestion, but instead of that it proved to be a solution of carbolic acid, which was contained in a vial similar to the one holding the stomach remedy. He discovered the difference before much of the acid was swallowed. Dr. Starr was hastily summoned and promptly administered antidotes, and it is expected that there will be no very serious results.

SHIPS LUMBER FOR A HOUSE.

W. H. Ashcraft Begins the Building of Lake Geneva Cottage.

W. H. Ashcraft went to Lake Geneva today to begin the building of a cottage at Glenwood Springs.
He will have all his lumber shipped from here as it can be gotten out more cheaply by Janesville mills than in Delavan or Lake Geneva. Contractor Moon of Lake Geneva will build the house.

HAD A BLIND PIG AT FAIRFIELD

Peaceful Village Stirred by an Old Man's Illicit Liquor Traffic.

G. W. Lang, a man of seventy years of age, was arrested on a charge of selling alcohol without a license at Fairfield, the little village just over the Walworth line. He was found guilty and sentenced to spend five months in the Elkhorn county jail.

ECZEMA

From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure. GEO. W. IRWIN, Irwin, Pa.

NOTICE

Johann Hoff has a suit pending against Tarrant & Co., to enjoin them from using the words "Hoff's Malt Extract" for an Extract in their cellars in New York City.

"What a Lovely Complexion!"

"Isn't her complexion charming!" These are expressions we hear every day, made by women in reference to others, which reveal a pardonable envy, and one which can be gratified.

The secret of good health, as indicated by a rich color, and well-rounded figure, is found in a good digestion.

Shopping tours, dances and entertainments indulged in, will leave you utterly fagged out, unless you are obtaining all the value from your food; and it is so easy to accomplish this that you will wonder no one has spoken to you of it before.

Try with each meal, and at bed-time, a wineglassful or more of the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract, which you will find to be most acceptable to the palate as a beverage, and will lift you right on to the plane of the vivacious and trim-figured sister you admire so much, and who seems capable of enduring endless fatigue.

Then, again, we must remember the nursing mother, where two lives are dependent upon the proper nourishing of the one. Surely nothing can be more valuable to the mother, nor give more comfort to the baby, by producing a generous flow of milk, than the

GENUINE JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT.

Defective nutrition is the foundation of all ailments. A healthy, well-nourished body can withstand almost any disease. There is resistance power in such a body.

I have been taking the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract myself for a year or so, and find it an excellent tonic and appetizer. Without doubt it is the best Malt Extract in the market. W. A. WHITTEM, Druggist, Chestnut Hill.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine has signature Johann Hoff on Neck Label.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

THE OFFICIAL CITY PAPER

Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wis., second-class matter.

BUSINESS POINTS.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul system for the first week in September were $675,538, an increase over the corresponding time of 1894 of $13,921.

The St. Paul and Northwestern systems are beginning to move the wheat crop. The receipts yesterday at Duluth and Minneapolis were 664,123 bushels and 216,450 bushels respectively against 189,042 bushels and 153,300 bushels. The heavy receipts of grain is the cause of the weakness in prices.

The average condition of corn in the United States September 1, as reported by the government is 96.4 as compared with 102.5 per cent. August 1. This reduces the estimated yield from 2,400,000,000 bu. to 2,257,000,000 bu.

There is a decided improvement in the prices of anthracite coal at primary markets. This is thought to foreshadow a sharp advance in prices before the end of September. The Vanderbilts and others who control the bulk of coal mining and shipping properties have been working here for months on a comprehensive plan to monopolize the industry. There is a feeling akin to a certainty in the east that this deal is soon to be into effect. If it materializes it will result in an advance of at least $1.00 per ton in domestic sizes of hard coal before winter.

The United States gold reserve is now considerably below the one hundred million dollar mark. It has dropped several times to below that figure this summer but on each occasion the Belmont-Morgan bond syndicate deposited a sufficient amount of the yellow metal in exchange for greenbacks to restore it. This time that aggregation of capitalists has shown no disposition to "shell out" more gold and eastern financiers are wondering what the effect is to be. It is quite generally acknowledged that if the exports of gold continue and the syndicate refuses to longer keep up its gold deposits President Cleveland will saddle the country with another final issue. The temporary weakness of all class of securities of late has been caused by the uncertainties growing out of the situation.

VISIT THE FAIR.

Rock county people are turning out to the fair and are giving Janesville business men a lesson. The officers and managers of the fair have earned the right to receive from Janesville all the help that can be given. They have arranged a good display, have presented many new attractions and have drawn crowds from all parts of Rock, and surrounding counties. All this is a benefit to the city. The people of the city should show their appreciation by visiting the fair, not one day, but every day. Let the grounds be crowded.

Appleton folks refuse to credit Oshkosh with generosity in offering a few dribbles of Lake Winnebago water. They say Oshkosh had no use for the water, logging being finished and the boating season about over, and that the offer comes with a sort of cold victuals air.

Men of sporting blood will be glad Lord Dunraven won a race in the international series. They feel assured that he can do no more than that, but they cannot regret that so gallant a sportsman should have a partial victory to cheer him on his way home.

The Janesville man who fails to visit the fair this week has no right to complain of the lack of public spirit among his neighbors.

The success of the Rock county fair means much for Janesville and Janesville can do much to insure that success. Tomorrow is Janesville's day and the grounds should be crowded.

Right Now

Is a good time to buy lamps. In the first place because they are cheap decorated and banquet lamps or most any kind for very low prices in the second place winter is coming on and of course more or less reading will be done. Our lamps have the best burners and give good light. Don't fail to see them. Lowell's Annex.

For school

It commences next Monday and the children must have supplies. Better save money for them. We carry everything in school supplies, slates, pencils, pens, tablets, pen holders, rubber erasers and everything they need at less than can be bought elsewhere. Lowell's Annex.

We Back Up Every Statement

We make with the goods themselves. If they are not satisfactory return them. We want to do more than make one sale—we want to make you our customers for all time to come. Therefore the fairest kind of fair treatment in every transaction. Lowell Hardware Co.

Close Tomorrow Afternoon.

The Lowell Hardware Co. will close tomorrow afternoon in order that their clerks may have an opportunity of attending the fair.

EXAMINING PATRICK MULCAIRNS

Preliminary Hearing Held Today—Hagany Case Adjourned—Court News.

The preliminary examination of Patrick Mulcairns, who is charged with the larceny of ten dollars from the person of Con. O'Leary, was begun in the municipal court this morning. District Attorney Jackson appearing for the state, and John V. Norcross for the defendant. Only a part of the state's witnesses could be examined, as James Davis, the principal one, could not be found. Davis claimed to have seen Mulcairns take the money, but he mysteriously disappeared shortly afterward, and has not been seen since although diligent search has been made for him. In Davis's absence it was decided to examine such witnesses as were present, to save time. O'Leary told his story this morning and created considerable amusement with his brogue and quaint expressions. The examination was not concluded, but was adjourned until September 16 at 9 a. m. In default of $500 bail, Mulcairns went back to jail.

Officer Hogan charged David Dougherty and Patrick Dorsey with being drunk last night but when he brought them into court this afternoon the judge discharged Dougherty on his promise of better behavior and Dorsey took the pledge that the judge administered, agreeing to keep it for one year.

The C. & N. W. railroad company this afternoon perfected their appeal to the circuit court from the decision of Judge Phelps, giving George L. Bogardus a judgment for the killing of a horse.

"Dr." L. P. Biglow, "the gentleman with the broken neck" was under bonds to appear in the municipal court this morning, but he did not show up, so the court declared his surety of $50 forfeited.

John Hagany pleaded not guilty to "leathering" Lawrence McCarthy, when Officer Wallace Cochran brought him into the municipal court this morning, and the case was adjourned until September 13 at 9 a. m., the defendant being left in the custody of the arresting officer.

Vincennes Klecka is spending his time in jail, just at present, as punishment for punching Frank Beir in the head and leg with a stone. Klecka was tried in the municipal court yesterday and found guilty. Judge Phelps imposing a fine of $10 and costs with a thirty day jail sentence proviso in case. Klecka didn't pay. Klecka did not have the money with him, so he went to jail.

STRANGE COUPLE AT MR. DAWSON'S

They Came Unannounced, Got Their Supper and Then Left.

"Good evening" said a man and a woman as Mrs. M. Dawson opened the door to the popular livestock dealer's house at 6 o'clock the other night.

"Good evening" replied Mrs. Dawson, as the guests walked in. Then came half an hour's aimless conversation about the weather, etc., in the course of which the man remarked that they had driven some distance and had, as yet, had no supper. Then Mr. Dawson suggested to his wife that the visitors be fed. Neither the jolly stockbuyer nor his good wife knew who the guests were but they did the honors gracefully. After supper came conversation concerning the weather, the state of crops etc. Then the man seemed to pluck up courage.

"How soon will his reverence be at liberty?" he asked bashfully.

Then new light dawned on the household.

"Dean McGinnity lives next door" said the stock buyer.

"Oh!" said the woman.

"Ah!" said the man.

And they went and were wed.

WAS RUN DOWN BY A BICYCLIST

Mrs. Thomas Bowles Knocked Headlong by a Wheelman Last Night

Mrs. Thomas Bowles was run down by a bicyclist while crossing East Milwaukee street last evening and knocked headlong. She was not dangerously injured, although she received some bruises and was severely shaken up.

STORES TO CLOSE FOR THE FAIR

NEW BUILDING OPENS MONDAY.

There Will Be No Delay in Beginning the High School Work.

High school will begin Monday in the new building as The Gazette announced some time ago. Desks and seats are in, the only furniture lacking being part of the laboratory equipment which the Hanson Furniture Company will finish within a month.

Superintendent D. D. Mayne conducted an examination for teachers and pupils at the Lincoln school today.

The school census has been completed by Fred L. Clemens and shows a decrease of forty-seven since last year.

After looking on the ground the committee decided to lay a six foot artificial stone sidewalk all the way around the building. The chances are that no attempt to enlarge the grounds by narrowing up the street, will be made.

Thomas Coppin.

Thomas Coppin formerly of this city died at his home in Beloit last night of hemorrhage of the stomach. He had been a resident of Beloit for about eight years, had married in Beloit and one child blessed the union. Among his relatives present were his mother, Edward Coppin, of Texas and Wm. H. Coppin of Milwaukee and his sisters, Mrs. A. M. Wilkinson and Mrs. Fred Crouse of Janesville. John and Mary Coppin are en route from Texas.

Funeral services will be held at the home in Beloit tomorrow at 3 p. m.

A COMMON CAUSE OF SICKNESS

IN WARM WEATHER NOTHING SO DANGEROUS AS DECAYED FOODS.

Every one knows or ought to know that decayed foods are poisonous. Boards of Health seek to prevent their sale.

We now have in mind the results which follow the decay and decomposition of foods after they have been eaten, for unless digestion occurs within a reasonable time after our meals, decomposition sets in.

If dyspepsies will stop and consider for a moment some of the symptoms of their trouble, such as disagreeable breath, eructations of gas or bad taste in the mouth, they will understand that they all must come from decaying foods that ought properly to have been absorbed into the system.

Spots before the eyes, dizziness, sleeplessness, dyspeptic headaches are but a few of the effects following the absorption into the blood of poisons, developed from decomposing and undigested food that lies in the stomach.

It was a recognition of this important fact that caused the Mount Lebanon Shakers to devote so much of their time to the preparation of a remedy for dyspepsia, and nothing is more efficient than the Digestive Cordial which they have recently placed on the market.

The importance of their invention will be appreciated when we realize what a proportion of the community are victims of some form of stomach trouble. Thousands of pale, thin people have little inclination to eat, and what they do eat causes them pain and distress.

Its action is so prompt that relief frequently follows the very first dose. It restores the appetite and increases the weight. Plumpness and strength take the place of weakness and that care-worn expression which points out the dyspepsies in every community. The local druggists are now giving away interesting descriptive pamphlets.

AN ORDINANCE to adopt the twenty-third subdivision of Section 52 of the General Charter law in addition to the provisions of Chapter IV of the Special Charter of the City of Janesville.

The Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville do ordain as follows:—Section 1. The 23rd subdivision of Section 52 of the General Charter Law of the State of Wisconsin which reads as follows:—"Twenty-third To establish hospitals and to provide for their regulation and support." is hereby adopted in addition to the provisions of Chapter IV of the Special Charter of the City of Janesville.

Section 2. This ordinance shall be in force and take effect from and after its passage and publication, which publication shall be for three successive days.

Notice is hereby given, That an ordinance of which the foregoing is a copy, was presented to the Common Council of the City of Janesville, at a regular meeting thereof, on the 29th day of July, 1895, and that the same will be acted upon by said Council at a regular meeting thereof, to be held at the Council Chamber in said City on the 26th day of August, 1895, at 8 o'clock P. M. Dated J. V. 29, 1895.

Passed Sept. 9, 1895.

A SOURCE OF SURPRISE

To Physicians and Patient Alike.

Dr. Redmond, a specialist in the study and treatment of Piles and rectal diseases, recently stated that the Pyramid Pile Cure, the new discovery for the cure of piles, was the most remarkable remedy he had ever seen or tried in one respect; and that was, the instant relief experienced in all cases, no matter how severe, from the moment the remedy was applied; this was the more surprising to him, because he had carefully analyzed the preparation and no trace of opium, cocaine or similar poison could be detected.

Physicians look with great favor upon the Pyramid Pile Cure, because it is rapidly taking the place of surgical operations and because it is so simple, so easily applied and contains no mineral or other poisons so commonly used in pile cures.

Dr. Easterbrook reports that the Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures the various forms of piles, but never fails to give immediate relief on the first application, no matter how severe the pain or discomfort may be.

People who have suffered from piles for years are often astonished at the instant relief experienced from the first application. Another important advantage is the fact that anyone can use the remedy without detention from business or interference with daily occupation.

Mr. J. W. Rollins of Sweet Springs, Mo., writes: "I consider the Pyramid Pile Cure without an equal; it cured me in less than 30 days. I waited 15 days or more to be sure I was fully cured before writing you; I can now say I am cured and I shall recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure at every possible opportunity, because it deserves it."

Although a comparatively new remedy its popularity is such, that all druggists now sell it; if your druggist hasn't it in stock, he will get it for you if you ask him, as all wholesale druggists have it on sale.

A pamphlet describing the cause and cure of piles sent free by addressing the Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich.

THE SECRET!

of our success lies in the fact that we never attempt to deceive the public. We are not tricky. When we advertise we say what we mean and mean what we say. Every bargain advertised by us is warranted to be a bargain, and exactly what we say it is. Furthermore, we make it a point to have a sufficient quantity of such goods to supply all comers. The common excuse, "Sorry, but they are all sold," or "We are just out of them, but here is something just as good," will not be made at our store. Buying all goods in large quantities, and selling at the closest possible margin, we are today the cheapest house in the city.

Doubt About Insurance.

Insuring in a questionable company is like depositing in a shaky bank. Both concerns may pull through, but why take the risk? Read this list;

Royal Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $2,155,542.
Buffalo German	Net Surplus, $1,065,549.
New Hampshire Fire Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $ 434,539.
Traders' Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $1,293,568.
Commercial Union Assurance Company	Net Surplus, $ 698,883.
Northwestern National Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $ 401,289.
Pennsylvania National Fire Insurance Company	Net Surplus, $1,290,174.

HEIFER'S WILD RUN CLEARS THE TRACK

CHILDREN SCATTER AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

First Day of the Rock County Show Reveals Plenty of Attraction—Not a Drop of Liquor on the Grounds—
The Stock Pens Are All Well Filled.

E. A. Rich's horse jerked its head all off and dashed across the fair grounds this afternoon. In the buggy were little Allen Rich and Mr. ad Mrs. O. Hanthorn's daughter label. The children clung to one another in terror as the buggy tilted and swayed. Twice around the open space inside the track the frightened orse ran, pursued by Marshal C. K. iltimore on horseback. Marshal iltimore grabbed the runaway and ragged back, striking the horse over e eyes with a whip handle. It emed almost a miracle, but the ighted animal was finally halted lthough doing any damage.

A buggy driven by Mrs. J. B. Mc-ean struck a post at the exit gate, ad a child was thrown from the uggy seat to the ground.

Allie Wheeler ran into a crowd on e track while doing a fast mile this ternoon. He smashed his wheel and art himself but not seriously.

Heifer Owned the Grounds.
An over-heated, fly-tormented heifer ayed a star part at the fair today.
e stood the sun and the noise, and e dust and the flies just as long as e spirit-dripped heifer could. Then she oke away and charged down the ack.

"Ow-w-w-w!" shrieked a lot of terrified little girls as they took refuge a building.

"Stopper!" Stopper-risay!" shouted man with Peffer whiskers as he got a watering tank, presumably so at he could give directions to better vantage.

The heifer was getting more frantic ith excitement every minute.
Whicher way she turned she made crowd flee.

Two mounted patrols came after her ad headed her toward the back etch. There they finally cornered er and the excitement subsided.

Children were everywhere on the ounds all day. They came in free, ith big white badges tied in their utton-holes, and divided their time etween drinking lemonade and pok-g sticks at the hens.

Beloit and Afton children turned at in full force and Milton young-ers bore blue and yellow ribbons arked "Milton Public School."

Games For The Young Folks.
About 11 o'clock everybody went ver in front of the grand stand, here the Beloit band was playing ad C. C. McLean was getting a lot of all boys in line. Between 11 and there was a lively series of games, sulting as follows:

Quarter Mile Pony Race—Joe arns, first $5; Max Miltimore, sec-nd, $2.

Hundred Yard Race—Boys under teen—James Coon, first, $1; Ralph umb, second, 50 cents.

Tilting at the Ring—Max Miltimore st, $2; George Kemmett, second, $1.
Hundred yard Race—Girls under teen—Mamie Griffin, first, $1; llie Brown, second, 50 cents.

Tug of War—Robert Daverkosen's am first, $3; Harry Atwoods team, cond, $2.

Heavy horses were in the judge's ng during the morning and an excellent showing was made. The dges in the fine art department gan work about 11 o'clock.

Trotting Races In The Afternoon.
Two trotting races were the main atures of the afternoon sport. The mmaries were:

35 Trotting:
Initial Boy, James Cutter, Fairield, 1 4 3 2.
ubope, J. R. Edwards, Rolling Prairie, 5 dis.
stator, Jr., Dave Johnson, Jef-erson, 4 2 4 4.
ll Boy, Phil Hawley, Barrington, on, Ill., 2 1 1 1.
belle, F. L. Smith, Janesville, 3 3 2 3.
Time—2:28 1/2; 2:32 1/2; 2:30 1/2; 2:23 1/2.

Special 2:25 Trotting:
dar Wood, W. J. Dyer, Lancaster, is, Heyland Stock Farm, Mil-see, 4 4 4 4.
ight S. H. P. Hanson, Stoughton, on, 2 3 3 3.
llie Tombs, William Stone, Chatham, 1 1 1 1.

Ponies owned by J. R. Bisschopp of Beit raced to chariots, four-in-hand, ad the boys won. A lively exhibition as given.

Tomorrow—Janesville day—there ill be races and attractions of many rts.

No Liquor on the Grounds Righteous people who went to the ounds expecting to be shocked by unkeness and revelry had their ouble for their pains. Not a drop of ything stronger than sarsaparilla ould be had and even unobtrus-e blind pigs found no abiding place. emperance people could have no use for complaint.

There have been changes in the dis-osition of the exhibits since last ar. Vegetables are no longer own in the Fine Arts hall. The isplay in each hall has a more hom-oneous appearance—less like a ddle of things having nothing in mmon. The displays are well aranged and are not crowded.

In the art department the disay is the best the society has ever ad. Miss Gertrude Page has a collection of paintings, drawings and udies that have attracted much attention.

Leaving the balls behind, a very edible showing of stock is seen.

Hogs are scarce because of the cholera, but twenty new pens have proven necessary to hold the sheep and the cattle, and the horse stalls are full.

Fakirs on Every Hand.

If no one else had gone to the fair today there were enough side show men to make a crowd.

Cane racks, candy stands, baby shows, lung testers—
They were all on hand.

"This is my last year of it," said one of the cane rack men.

"Business is not what it was in the good old days," suggested a reporter.

"The good old days be hanged!" said the cane man explosively. "They were as bad as the days are now. The trouble is the life is too rough. Most of us sleep right here on the grounds and as soon as it gets dark things begin to hum. It's all a man's life is worth to stay around. Take the regular fair-ground poker game.
A man who isn't a fighter stands no show."

"But there is money in the job," hazarded the reporter.

"Yes, if the crowd comes. But they won't let us work any of the games that are really payers."

"What's the matter with canes?" Six men had just left the stand after spending a dollar and a half and getting a five cent bamboo.

Cup Game Is the Winner.

The cane man raked in the cash and aid:

"Oh, canes are all right, but they are slow. Now the cup game—there is something worth while. I'd give a hundred dollars a day for the cup privilege, and make big money. The wheel of fortune isn't half as good.
Put a pint cup on the ground ten feet away and let people toss money at it.
They get double for whatever they throw in, and the stand gets the rest.
A man starts by throwing dimes and loses. Then he gets excited and begins to throw quarters, halves and dollars. A dollar is the best thing to throw, but most people haven't blood enough for that, so they handicap themselves by throwing small coin. I cleared $500 one day in the cup racket in La Salle, Ill.

"That would be a good substitute for grab bag at the church fair."

"The next best thing I ever struck was one of these snaps where you throw at a darkey's head. Instead of using base balls I used real eggs, and I couldn't take in the nickels fast enough. The crowd were wild to land a egg in that man's wool."

"Most of the profits went for eggs, though, didn't they?"

Can't Throw an Egg Hard.

"Not by a good deal. Very few men can throw an egg against a loose cane as twelve feet away, hard enough to break it. You can't grip an egg the way you can a cobble stone, you know. I had a lot of loose straw for the eggs to drop into, and didn't use any more than five dozen the busiest day."

"Is there money in shooting galleries?"

"There's money in them if enough good shots are around."

"Don't pay to bend the gun barrels, then?"

"Well, hardly. The more bulls-eyes that are made the better for the gallery.
The gallery is ahead even if every man who shoots wins cigars, and the only way to keep business up is to keep the bell ringing. It pays to hire a good shot to stroll up every fifteen minutes or so and plug the bulls eye. That gives the crowd confidence. They say: 'If he can do that I can' and the nickels begin to flow in. Oh, there's money in any of these games if they are worked so as to interest the people. But I've had enough. A man can't be a good christian and follow the fair. I branched out in the sideshow business a little last year and carried two mermaids around with the circus, but I left them in the water over night once and they soaked to pieces. If I can raise money for another outfit I think I'll take the circus business again next year and try to lead a decent life."

BRIEF CITY NEWS NOTES.

CONCERT—The Christ church cadets gave the first entertainment of a series to be given this winter, at the Parish house last night, and made a neat sum for the uniform fund, beside entertaining their audience in a very pleasing way. The affair was a phonographic concert and it was as novel as it was enjoyable.

SOCIAL—A sociable that was thoroughly enjoyable was held at the Congregational church parlors by the Junior League last evening. A penant hunt, and an art gallery were the principal features, and dainty refreshments were served.

NOT TRUE—Alderman Stearns denies that he will bring the matter of the hose carts not responding to his telephonic alarm before the council, and says he knew nothing about the article crediting him with such an intention until he saw it today.

THERE is no doubt, no failure when you take DeWitt's Colic & Cholera Cure. It is pleasant, cures promptly. No bad after effects. C. D.
Stevens.

Y. P. S. C. F. MEETING—There will be a business meeting of the Y. P. S.
C. E. of the Baptist church, after prayer meeting tonight.

LYCEUM—The first meeting of the season will be held by the Rusk Lyceum this evening, and a full attendance is requested.

NO MEETING—No meeting of the Arrow Cycling club was held last night, as there was no quorum present.

THE Quaker Gentleman has come to stay. Drop in and make his acquaintance at C. D. Stevens' Pharmacy.

AN AGED EX-SLAVE IS CALLED TO REST

WISCONSIN'S OLDEST COLORED WOMAN IS DEAD.

Mrs. Hiram Jefferson Was Born a Slave; Married a Slave; and Raised Eighteen Children, Seventeen of Whom Were Sold or Died the Property of Their Master.

Sarah Malvina Jefferson, whose family claims she was the oldest colored woman in Wisconsin; who was born in slavery; married in slavery;
had eighteen children born in slavery, all of whom were held as the chattels of her master, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Gibbons, 207 Chatham street, at 3:15 o'clock this morning, after a ten days' illness.

It was a long and varied life that death cut short, when Mrs. Jefferson was called. She was born at Booneville, Mo., on September 15, 1820. When she first saw the light of day it was on the plantation of her master near that city, for her father and mother were both slaves.

The next forty-five years of her life were spent as the work horses spend thir's—tilling all day long, and but for food and shelter. As the years ran by, and the colored child became, in turn, a colored girl and a colored woman, she fell in love with Moses Whittier, who was also a slave on their native plantation. The attachment was mutual, and on the consent of their master, but on a date that is unknown, the two slaves were wed.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittier then settled down in a cabin on the plantation and in the course of time a child was born to them. But it was not their child; their master owned it as much as he owned the calves and colts, and when the babe was large enough to pick cotton, it was put to work. Thus the family grew. During the thirty-eight years they lived together, seventeen children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Whittier, but at the time of her death she knew nothing of what became of the eight who were sold by their master, although she did know of the nine who had died. In 1865, Mrs.
Jefferson, then Whittier's widow, came to Janesville where she has since resided. In 1869 she was married to Hiram Jefferson and Janesville has since been her home. One of the eighteen children that she bore—and the only one of which she knew anything—was with her at the time of her demise, she being Mrs. Gibbons, the daughter with whom Mrs. Jefferson was residing at the time of her death.

Mrs. Jefferson professed religion in 1867 and joined the African M. E. church at Beloit. She had been a consistent christian ever since and City Missionary Kimball who nursed the aged ex-slave through her final illness says that it is thought comforted Mrs.
Jefferson very much as the end drew nigh. She bore her sufferings patiently and was glad to go.

The funeral will be held from the house, 207 Chatham street at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Rev.
A. Porter of the First M. E. church officiating.

This is fair week; and to show that Rosenfeld has always treated everybody fair that deals in his store, we will still continue to sell children's suits, 4 to 14 years, for 75 cents. B y's pants, 14 to 19 years, for $2.50, large sizes fit a man; and men's suits, the best of wool, for $3.50, sizes 34 to 42.
Our reputation for well made, well fitting and perfect goods has long ago been established. We need no introduction to the public. All good dressers know we handle the Great Stein Bloch Company tailor made clothing and Garrison, Meyer & Co. Children's Clothing, Rochester,
New York, which only first-class clothing concerns carry. Therefore, don't read these lines and say it can't be done, but come and see, for it would not pay us to deceive the public by advertising these facts and not live up to them, as our trade would not stick to us if we did such contemptible tricks and no one would know Rosenfeld by reputation as no man who has dealings with him can say anything to the contrary. Call and see me. I mean business. Rosen-

TRINWITH GETS OUT OF A MENDOTA CELL

THE BAD MAN FROM HARMONY TOWNSHIP AT LARGE.

Escaped From the State Asylum Yesterday, and People Fear He Will Carry Out Threats Against the Family—Clark McDonald Gets Away From the County Institution

Thomas Trinwith, the man who created a reign of terror in the town of Harmony some days ago, and was declared to be insane by a commission of physicians and sent to Mendota hospital, escaped from that institution yesterday and is now at large. Judge Sale, who committed Trinwith, was notified by the asylum authorities today, that Trinwith had escaped, and he in turn, notified the officers. Trin-with was pretty bitter in his denunciation of the family and some people think that he may return and do them injury. The officers are inclined to think that Trinwith will hide in the woods and live after the manner of Lo, the poor Indian.

The officers are also searching for Clark McDonald, an inmate of the county insane asylum, who made his escape yesterday. McDonald was one of the "trusties," and was allowed some what more freedom than would otherwise be accorded him, on that account. Yesterday he saw his chance to run, and he ran. Since then he has not been seen. His escape has been brought to the attention of the local authorities, he being described as a tall man with square but rather stooping shoulders, and a heavy, dark colored mustache. It was thought that he was seen north of the city yesterday, but of this the officers were not certain.

Patrick Burns the other inmate who escaped a few days and has not yet been located. Burns was seen at Beloit very soon after his escape but eluded the officers. A woman living in the first ward reported to Chief Acheson last night that an odd looking, queer acting man had called at her home yesterday and her description fitted Burns nicely. Chief Acheson at once began a search for Burns but did not find him.

WHY NOT?

Our memories are shadow views
On which the fancy plays.
'Tis fancy gives that tender charm
To long departed days.

Like modern flashers, who work
Upon the pictured face,
It fills out dim, uncertain lines
With its own curves of grace.

It softens what is harsh and hard;
It shadows what is bold;
It wipes out time's defacing marks—
Each telltale frown and fold.

Then lightens up the doctored scene
With its dim, mystic rays,
And we, enraptured, gaze and cry,
"O dear departed days!"

Now fancy is a servant that,
Though wayward, may be led.
Let's bid it leave the past and work
On passing days instead.

It can make present ills seem light,
The present joys enhance,
And prose is turned to poetry
Where its soft colors glance.

All things are good, all things are bad
When thus they seem to be,
And life is this or life is that,
—Just as we think or see.

OUTWITTED.

Farmer Harris had long been renowned for his thrift and independence, but the neighbors declared that Joe would never make such a man. In some ways fate was against Joe. He was an only son and his mother and five sisters had spoiled him. He was a bright boy for his age, too, and a good one, but his father had not much confidence in his molly coddled son. Joe had an idea that he was as capable as most boys, but his father would always say, "Why, when I was half Joe's age, I was my father's mainstay."

One August day Mr. Harris had a slight sunstroke after working hard in the fields getting ready a load of fresh corn to be taken to market in a neighboring town on the following day. This was a predicament indeed, as his men were not to be trusted, and he had small confidence in Joe's ability. However, he had to make the best of it and send Joe with one of the hired men to help.

The journey was accomplished without any unusual event, and Joe, to his great delight, sold every ear of corn, and as the crop was an extra fine one, he realized quite a sum of money for his large wagon load, and he sold the three jars of butter his mother had made to the hotel keeper. It was about dusk, and Joe, who was feeling very good after his day's work, wished the distance was 17 miles instead of 7 to the farm. There was a footpath which crossed the fields at a distance from the highroad, and by walking he could reach home before Andrew, the hired man, who rode. Strange to say, he met no one on the road, and yet he was sure he had heard footsteps. Then the thought that he was being followed entered his head, and he started to run again, but the footsteps still followed. As a last resource he jumped the hedge at the side of the path, hoping that in the dim light his pursuer would miss him. But there was no such good luck in store for him, and in another moment a burly ruffian had jumped the hedge and demanded the bag of money.

As quick as a wink Joe picked up a stone and flung it at the man, hitting him in the head and knocking him down. Then, without waiting to see what harm the blow had done, he took to his heels, retracing his steps, in the hope of meeting with some assistance on the highroad. He had gone but a few yards, when he ran into the open arms of a huge man, who being outpaced by his companion, was ready to catch the boy as he saw him coming. There was no use in calling for help, and Joe's kicks and cries were to no purpose other than to anger the ruffians. He might have effected his escape had not the other man, nursing a black eye, appeared at that moment. That was the last he knew until he came to himself some hours later. He was in a cornfield, and the moon was shining brightly above him. The bag of money was missing of course, and to go home without it after what he had said to his father was not to be thought of. He would follow the men and perhaps a chance to recover the money might offer.

It must have been about noon when, hungry and tired, Joe stopped at a farmhouse and asked for a drink. The kind hearted farmer, seeing that the lad was hungry, made him sit down to a hearty dinner, and Joe told his story to the sympathetic family.

"Two tramps passed here about daylight," volunteered the farmer's daughter. "Can you describe the men?"

He could, and his description tallied exactly with that of the tramps seen by the farmer's daughter, especially about one man having a very black eye. They had taken the road to the north, she said, but they were wicked looking men, and she advised Joe not to attempt to follow them.

The men were far ahead, but by making careful inquiries at a country store he learned that they had staid in the village some time and could not be more than a couple of miles away. This intelligence spurred him on, and in two hours he caught sight of the pair crossing a field some distance ahead. Keeping well in the shelter of fences and trees, he followed as close as he dared. It was a sultry day, and the sun scorched everything with which it came in contact. They were now approaching the river, and Joe looked with longing eyes at the cool water.

To his great surprise the two men stopped on the bank, and after talking for some time they removed their clothes and piling them in a crevice in the stone wall they prepared to enter the water. The younger of the two, the one whom Joe had decorated with a black eye, looked suspiciously in every direction before he went down the bank, but seeing nothing to alarm him he went ahead with his bath. Apparently neither of the men could swim. They splashed about in the shallow water, while Joe, with fast beating heart, crept under the shelter of some bushes warily toward the pile of clothes, for he was confident his money was concealed in them. If he could only get it and get away without being discovered!

This seemed likely to be the case, for he had the bundle of clothes in his arms and had risen from the ground and cleared the fence before an exclamation from one of the men announced that he was discovered. Joe threw the clothes, with the exception of the trousers he felt to contain the bag of money, into the river as he rapidly crossed the little footbridge. At the end of the bridge the road had lately been covered with broken stones, and here Joe was able to make good progress away from his bare-footed pursuer. The man had paused a moment when he saw his clothes splash into the water, but evidently considering that the clothes were less valuable than the money he hurried on as he was. The broken stones were soon passed, and then at every step the man gained upon Joe, and had it not been for a close prickly hedge near by through which the boy forced his way, he would undoubtedly have been caught. He reflected that if the ruffian made up his mind to force his way through the briars he would suffer much more than he, and so he made the best of his advantage thus gained.

At last the man came through, threatening and swearing at the terrified Joe, who, feeling that his strength could not last much longer, doubled his pace. In vain he looked for some living thing to help—for a house in which to hide, but there was not one in sight. The ruffian had ceased his threatening, but his silence was far worse, and Joe could hear the patter of his bare feet close behind.

It was of no use. He was losing ground every minute, and it would be impossible to outrun this man. He made a last spurt, however, and dashing about a corner of the fence came in sight of the winding river again. Ah, there was another chance! Without a moment's hesitation Joe raised his hands above his head and dived from the bank and with two or three quick strokes under water he came up several yards ahead of his pursuer. The man had dashed into the water without realizing that he could not swim and Joe was ahead of him and over his depth now.

As Joe calmly climbed the opposite bank after his refreshing bath the half drowned ruffian was being pulled from the water by his companion, who had secured the clothes and followed as fast as possible. Awful threats of vengeance were poured on Joe's head from across the water when the ruffian recovered the use of his lungs and the volley of stones that came nearly across the river was appalling. Joe coolly occupied himself in wringing the water from his clothes and in shaking his fist at the men and returning some of their threats.

When he had rested awhile he prepared to start for home, which must have been some 18 miles distant. He rolled the trousers up, and depositing them on the bank shouted to the men that they were ready as soon as they cared to call for them. Then taking off his hat with a flourish he turned his back and was on the road for home. He reached the house of a friendly farmer at nightfall and spent the night there. The next morning he reached home safely and handed the money bag to his father.—Exchange.

Robbing the Good Natured.

A scheme has been worked successfully in this city for the past few days, and the police are searching for the sharper. A well dressed man enters one of the first class restaurants, and after partaking of a hearty meal feels for his pocketbook. He makes the discovery that he has left it at home, and turning to some substantial looking business man who happens to be in the place explains his predicament and asks the gentleman to settle his bill. In nine times out of ten this is cheerfully done. Then the suave stranger asks the gentleman for his card, that he may return the amount at his earliest opportunity. This is handed over, and the business man and stranger part. When the business man returns to his home in the evening, he finds that the man has called during his absence and presented the card to his wife, with the request that she send him some money, clothing or jewelry, as the case may be. If the business man happens to be a bachelor, the card gives the stranger the privilege of going to his apartment after some article, and then the drawers are ransacked. A number of the patrons of the St. Nicholas and Burdick's were caught by the trick.—Cincinnati Post.

Pretensions of King Menelik.

The missionary Flad, a German, belonging to Wurttemberg, writing from Abyssinia, says that one Goban Desta, who was educated near Basle and has been a colporteur of the English Bible society, working in Harrar and Shoa, was taken and put in chains merely because he wrote reports to Europe. King Menelik seemed determined to suppress every one who might report his preparations against the Italians. The king is surrounded, says Mr. Flad, by French and Russian courtiers and boasts beforehand of his victory over the Italians, and how he means to set forth from the Tigre to Jerusalem to free the Holy City. He needs the help of Russia and promises rich booty to his soldiers. He thinks he will do all this as easily as he carried out a raid lately against the Gallas, killing the men and making slaves of the women and children. He declares he is a direct descendant of David and Solomon.—London News.

Hunger Sauce.

Marshal Ney said that the best meal he ever made was on a piece of half raw pork. During the Russian campaign of 1812 he was passing by a campfire where a soldier was roasting a part of a pig he had shot. He offered the marshal a piece, which the latter thankfully accepted and devoured on the spot, with an excellent appetite.

FOR SCHOOL OR BEST WEAR

is the finest we ever have had in our store.

We were able this season to get a better selection all the way through, and any child from three to thirteen years we can give the

PRETTIEST SUIT,
WITH THE BEST MATERIAL

You ever saw. All the coming week we devote to Children's trade. We sold the majority of the children's clothing in the city last spring and will undoubtedly do the same this fall.

We have just bought a gross of BUCK-BOARDS and give one free with every CHILD'S SUIT no matter what price the suit may be.

GOOD QUALITIES COMBINED.

Utility and Features of This Design—Costs $3,750.

Copyright, 1895, by George P. Haller, Architect, 32 Park place, New York.

The last few years have been very prosperous for the suburban home builders. The cause of this is justly attributed to the aid and inspiration obtained through the marvelous growth and development of building and loan associations. The good of these associations have done and are can never be measured by mortal eyes, for it is as broad as the country and as high as space limits allow. That they young in their efforts as yet goes to that the future will work out results that the most sanguine cannot dream of. Help on the good work all you can and push it along, for it is a good thing.

FIRST STORY.

Every day. Yet, however well suited an may be for one family, it may be unsuited to another, and it is only from standpoint of suitability that each plan be considered, and in doing this it will generally found for situations and needs from that planned, for slight changes will need to be made to cover individual needs and site wants, all of which be done by replanning.

Twenty-eight feet front, 42 feet deep. Light of stories: Cellar, 6 feet 6 inches; first story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet 6 inches; three finished rooms in attic. Foundation of brick, cellar floor cemented walls whitewashed, walls hard finished.

SECOND STORY.

Second story sheathed, felted and boarded first floor. Second story, gas and roof shingled. Open fireplace in living room with neat wood mantel. Stairs for gas, plumbed, with bathroom, boiler and tubs in cellar. Front and back stairs. Finish in interior first floor staining, balance pine for filling and finishing. Stairs of whitewood, lighted stained glass window. Outside blinds first and second story windows. Exterior shingle work treated with creosote, stain, balance painted two coats. Sewer and water connections complete. Conservatory on side fully fitted up.

THE BEST BUILDING MATERIAL.

Stone and Brick Insure the Best and Most Lasting Results.

Every locality has characteristics, the result of its resources, which naturally have to be taken up on work done, one locality being in stone, another in lumber, others in either, but with good markets. These have a great deal to do with cost of building operations, and to a certain extent govern the style of work. The Dutchers who built farmhouses in New Jersey and Pennsylvania worked the stone found at hand, cut and hewed their own, and their work has stood the test time and is congenial to surroundings. One has the best building material in properly manipulated. It is easily used in most localities, and a wall of stone for cellars, foundations or even a of the superstructure is the best, serviceable and economical if rightly used. The undressed stones laid up just as nature furnishes them produce the most rustic and natural effect. The advances of natural stone, as originally quarried and gathered from the land, have been little understood, chiefly on account of expense deemed necessary in work and dressing. This has been brought about by the artisan's lack of training as to economical, substantial and artistic results that the materials give when right employed.

Such good work is today being done with the materials composing old stone walls and fences, which have heretofore been considered useless. While wood will undoubtedly for a long time be the standard material for economical housebuilding, brick will in many localities, on account of scarcity of wood, become more prevalent, and then we shall have better more lasting results, for the better material the better will the work be.—George P. Haller.

'Goods Well Bought are Half Sold'

We are today landing in our store rooms a first-class stock of new Fall and Winter Dry Goods. Our buyer has just returned from the New York market and we assure you that the three weeks he spent in that market were well spent. Most of the goods were bought in case lots direct from the manufacturers' agents and the lowest possible figures were obtained in this way. One particular point in these purchases was to secure some very special Bargains and we assure you we will surprise you when we put these lines on sale. We have hundreds of

BEAUTIFUL PATTERN DRESSES

These were bought with a view of having only one dress of a kind and we advise you to see them before the line is broken. We are securing

NEW LINES

Dress Goods,
Silk,
Carpets,
Rugs,
Dress Trimmings,
Underwear, Handkerchiefs,
Hosiery, Linens,
Yarns.

In fact all through our store we have put the stock in the finest shape. We are prepared to do a great Fall business and we shall work hard to merit and secure your patronage.
